Connect with the local Worcester community through HC programs: Community-Based Learning (CBL), Student Programs for Urban Development (SPUD), & Community Service Work-Study (CSWS)

CBL Highlights:

- Volunteering through a CBL course (academic credit)
- Semester-long volunteering
- Serve at an agency that fits with your course goals and schedule (agencies are pre-determined by your CBL professor)

SPUD Highlights:

- Volunteering in your free time (no academic credit)
- Semester-long volunteering for 1-2 hours per week
- Serve at an agency that fits with your goals & schedule

CSWS Highlights

- Paid job opportunity (not available to first-year students)
- Students must be work-study eligible
- Work with a FWS eligible agency or nonprofit

We'll talk about how our programs work and where they overlap (i.e. one position may serve as both a CBL requirement and a CSWS or SPUD placement). Note that there may be fewer volunteer opportunities this fall due to pandemic considerations. Except for CBL students, we cannot guarantee placement for the fall semester, but we will try!
